GENERAL INFORMATION

2010 will be the 30th anniversary of Fine Arts Brass and as a result we are particularly keen to revisit old friends that have hosted us before or make new friends where we might still be a new name. We have performed over 3000 concerts over the last thirty years – many of which have been to Making Music members. Groups come and go, but FAB still manage to delight audiences around the world. As it is our 30th anniversary we are planning many exciting projects including new commissions from Sir Peter Maxwell Davies, James MacMillan, Gerald Barry & Gwilym Simcock.

QUOTES

"Exceptional" Classical Music

"Dazzling" Gramophone

"Fine Arts Brass are an exceptionally talented group of instrumentalists who certainly live up to their acronym - FAB. They are masters of their craft" The Scotsman

PROGRAMME SUGGESTIONS

"There is a predictability about concert programmes by brass quintets which Fine Arts Brass always seem to skillfully sidestep." The Glasgow Herald, 2004. With an exclusive library of over a thousand pieces covering all genres Fine Arts Brass likes to work with individual promoters to devise a programme that fits your audience. Let's talk.

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC

New music is vital. Without it, music has no future. We have commissioned and premiered over a hundred pieces since 1980 and we're still counting.

EDUCATIONAL WORK

Our education concerts are legendary. We have worked with all ages and all abilities around the world. 'Inclusion' is our principal concern.
