An afternoon of classical music with Didcot's brand new and very own symphony orchestra.

Come and hear Didcot's brand new and very own symphony orchestra play music from the late Romantic era.

Ballet lovers especially will recognise Ponchielli's charming Dance of the Hours with its changing moods and catchy tunes depicting the times of the day.

French composer César Franck's highly melodic and atmospheric symphonic poem Psyché offers a unique chance to hear this rarely performed but tuneful gem.

The concert concludes with Brahms' incomparable and sunny Second Symphony, replete with fresh inventive melodies, colourful orchestration, and tunes you'll go home humming.

Conductor: Geoff Bushell

Leader: Kate Bailey

Honorary President: Ed Vaizey, MP
