THE RLSBC NEEDS YOU

A BACH CHOIR CHRISTMAS FOR ALL THE FAMILY

The culmination of the 2019-20 concert season was to have marked the Royal Leamington Spa Bach Choir's 80th anniversary, but unfortunately all our plans unravelled as a result of lockdown.

As a belated celebration of the choir's long and illustrious musical history, our Christmas concert this year will include music composed or arranged by composers associated with Leamington Spa, including carols by several of our past Musical Directors, starting with our founder Dr Stanley Vann, and indeed some by our present Musical Director.

Expect to be thrilled by the joyous sounds of multiple choruses, brass, percussion, and the grand organ of All Saints.

Ever thought of joining a choir, or of taking up choral singing again after a break?

Why not give us a try - the Royal Leamington Spa Bach Choir has a reputation for being friendly and welcoming, as well as striving for the highest possible musical standards.

Experts agree that singing is good for you; it promotes physical and mental health, and is an excellent way of learning to focus and relax. Just what we all need after the stresses of a pandemic! Of course, there is the social side as well - in a choir, you are surrounded by like-minded people who share your love of singing. The Bach Choir is actively seeking to increase its membership, as we launch an exciting new programme of music for the 2021-2022 season. If you're tempted, why not consider joining the choir this season?

You would be very welcome!

Melanie Forse, our Chairman, says:

"The joy of singing together in person returns after an enforced break and we have missed it! If you love to sing, so do we. Please join us!"

Lee Dunleavy, our Musical Director, says:

"I am delighted to present my first season as the RLSBC's sixteenth Musical Director. I can't wait to share our music-making with a live audience again, in a hugely varied programme of musical delights".
