

An impressionistic painting in the style of J.M.W. Turner, depicting a couple walking away from the viewer on a forest path. The man is wearing a red hat and a reddish-brown coat, and the woman is wearing a red hat and a light-colored dress. The background is a dense, colorful forest with thick brushstrokes in shades of green, yellow, and brown. The overall mood is romantic and nostalgic.

This concert explores musical portraits of hellos and goodbyes, whether love at first sight or burying one's beloved. The centrepiece is Parry's Songs of Farewell, marking the 100th anniversary of their composition and their composer's death, alongside music by Haydn, Holst, Rutter and Stanford.

Petros Singers is a well-regarded auditioned chamber choir with a reputation for high-quality singing and innovative programmes. We perform a wide-ranging and diverse repertoire and collaborate with top-class orchestras and soloists in West and Central London.

Richard Bannan is a baritone, conductor and arranger. He sings with many of the country's leading vocal ensembles, including the Choir of St George's Chapel, Windsor Castle where he is a lay clerk.

Andrew Wells has been the accompanist for Petros Singers since 1987. He graduated from the London College of Music and also studied at Trinity College London. He plays for several choirs and has frequently been rehearsal pianist for the BBC Singers and Symphony Chorus.
