

Alyth Choral Society

Summer Concert

Sunday 6th July 2025 @ 7.30pm

NWRS Alyth, Alyth Gardens, London, NW11 7EN

A Season to Sing: Joanna Forbes L'Estrange
A choral re-imagining of Vivaldi's The Four Seasons

Psalm 118: Give thanks to the Eternal: Julian Dawes

Madrigals: Thomas Morley, Orlando Gibbons

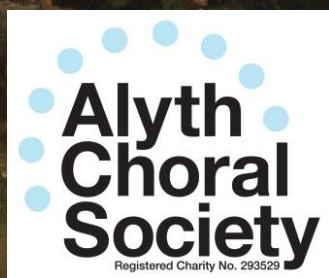

Conductor: Alison Smart Fisher

Accompanist: Tim Hooper

ACS Chamber Ensemble

Tickets: £20.00 from Ticketsource, ACS website
and at the door.

Students and under 18s free

Alyth Choral Society (ACS), a mixed faith community choir founded in 1983 by Viv Bellos is recognised for its unique contribution to the UK's vibrant choral scene.

Brahms Requiem Sunday 7th December 2025.

Come, sing with us! Rehearsals start 9 September 2025

Joanna Forbes L'Estrange is a British vocalist and choral composer. Her mission to create a body of tuneful, singable, well-crafted music which every choir can enjoy performing has been described as "an integrity of purpose that infuses every musical phrase that Forbes L'Estrange writes." (BBC Music Magazine)

Julian Dawes, ACS's Composer in Residence, began his musical training in Birmingham and continued at The Royal College of Music, London. He has worked extensively as an accompanist and teacher holding posts at The Drama Centre, London, Birmingham University, Arts Educational School, London and The Oxford School of Drama. He has been Musical Director for numerous theatre productions including five years as MD for the Cherub Company London.

Psalm 118* will have its premiere at the ACS Summer Concert.